Ms. LAW Wing-chung	In view of the pandemic, we are particularly concerned about the negative impact these events have on the students' mental well-being. We have reflected our views to the Education and Health Bureaux repeatedly, hoping that coping strategies can be strengthened to support schools to address this problem.  We also expect that the collaboration between Bureaux can be escalated to provide an extensive support to schools when handling student cases.  We pay high attention to student suicide cases and hope that healthcare professionals can be employed to station in schools to offer a comprehensive support for students.
